“BONE makes you different”

Fruitshop was established in 2005 with the aim of creating high quality products through innovation and creativity in order to provide everyday solutions to everyday needs. The company started out in the production of bone shaped protective cases for the iPod which developed into the company brand name. BONE has since expanded into the areas of USB flash drives, accessories for Apple products, computer peripherals and carrier bags. In recognition of BONE's design achievements and continual success, the company has gained numerous praises and awards; most notably with the winning of the iF, reddot, DESIGN PLUS and d&i awards which are all internationally recognized.

Antarctic environmental issues resulted in the creation of BONE's classic Penguin flash drive which acts as the symbol of BONE's spirit, intelligence and motivation to face new challenges. The heart of all BONE's creations comes from Taiwan. In 2010, a new branch was established in Shanghai which seeks to further develop talent and market resources in order to build up BONE as a truly international brand.

The use of light green represents the company's intent on promoting environmental awareness and protection in all their products and that environmental concept is at the center of all designs.

As Apple continues to excite the world with its creativity and different thinking, BONE continues to encompass those winning properties into their corporate culture by the enhancement of innovation and creativity whilst “being different.”

Brand Concept – touching your heart

BONE seeks to create products that touch the heart of every individual through its design. In 2008, US Custom officials could not help but smile at the Penguin flash drives as they passed through. Who would have thought that a digital peripheral could be so warm and interesting. It is this design concept that is placed in each and every design at BONE.

Design Concept – Low Tech, High Design

As the technological industry gets more and more high-tech with advancement in technology, BONE chooses not to follow this trend. Rather, BONE does the opposite: use of basic material properties coupled with cost-effectiveness in the creation of problem solving products. For instance; taking the traditional perception of silicone material and physical principles of PA resulted in the creation of our Horn Stand product. Another example is the use of composite silicone and microfiber resulting in the creation of our fashionable Phone Cell design bags. The quality of BONE's products are made subtly aware to the unconscious mind. The key principles of success for BONE is not built around how high-tech a product is, but rather the combination of innovative and simple design coupled with the perfect mix of material properties in order to achieve excellent construction and to turn creative ideas into reality.

Market areas – Penguin footprints, walking the world

BONE currently has markets in USA, Japan, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, UK, Russia and is marketed in a further 50 countries and sold in over 5,000 locations worldwide which is aiding in reaching the company goals of touching the hearts of consumers globally. At the end of June 2011, BONE opened its first official store in Taipei, Taiwan and has gradually spread throughout Taiwan. The black penguin and use of light green provides BONE's most distinctive brand image.

Social responsibility – soft heart, courage to meet design dreams

In addition to creating brand value, BONE has not forgotten their social responsibility. At each stage of the design process, environmental protection is placed at the heart of all decision making without compromising quality. The use of non-toxic biodegradable raw materials keeps this harmonic balance between man and nature.

Every journey starts at the design stage. BONE is committed to expanding the creative platform in which it stands and to nurture future talent as to fulfill young dreams and aspirations. To do this, BONE has sponsored for two consecutive years, the world's largest student design exhibition “Young Designers Exhibition.” From 2011, BONE has held a BONE Award design competition which gives young design students an opportunity to promote their creativity in creating designs for life solutions.

BONE is also actively involved with higher educational institutions to actively promote and share design experiences and knowledge in order to promote further academic learning in this field. With this passion for design, BONE hopes to nurture young talent and fulfill designer's dreams by touching their hearts.
